COMMANDER'S MESSAGE

Cdr John Seaver, JN

I appreciate the privilege and opportunity to take the helm of the Columbus Sail and Power Squadron. I, like many Commanders before me, have goals and ambitions and I believe they are modest enough that we can accomplish them:

- Increased member participation – our squadron is rich with human capital. I see people with great knowledge and experience and know that we would be better if we could carve a small sliver of their time to participate. I have seen some valuable members reduce their participation due to work or other demands and the deficit they left is hard to fill.

- Redesign the Galley Gossip – It is our best marketing tool and hiding it in the member section due to security concerns limits our 'stay for the friends' message.

- Improve or identify and establish new training partnerships with the like-minded at boat clubs, government agencies, sports stores and boat dealers. This is a key to keep our squadron growing – and remain viable in our mission.

- Redesign the Web Page – We made a considerable leap forward a few years ago, but we've outgrown our vendors' product. Class and dinner registrations don't work well, paying online doesn't work at all and the store, document storage and member areas are inadequate.

- Dinner Meetings – We can use a new ideas and I am confident our new Administrative Officer and Asst. AO are going to demonstrate good creativity. A mechanical bull may have been mentioned even.

- Update our Operations Manuals – including job descriptions and ensure they are readily available online for all to see.

Finally - I know that I can count on you to share your thoughts and ideas and I invite you to bend this Commander's ear as often as you would like. Your next chance to do so will be at the District Conference on March 6-8 and the following weekend at the Commander's Ball & 75th Anniversary of CSPS party on March 14th.

EXECUTIVE OFFICER

I would like to thank the membership for voting for me and affirming my continued trek on the bridge of the Columbus Sail and Power Squadron. I am looking forward to a new year of working with the new bridge officers. There are some very exciting plans and changes that will be taking place throughout this year.

You may ask as I did, what are the roles and responsibilities of the Executive Officer? In short, the XO is responsible for many of the external links to the squadron: Public Relations, Boat Shows, liaison to other boating organizations, Co-operative Charting and Vessel Safety Exams.

As it turns out, all of these have Public Relations in common activities. If we don't have a strong marketing department that is putting CSPS out in front of the public, we are just an inwardly focused boating club. It is very important to "market" ourselves to not only the public but to other important boating entities such as Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Central Ohio Safe Boating Council (COSBC), boat dealers, the various sporting goods stores that are now in the area and our sister boating organizations such as Alum Creek Sailing Association and Scioto Boat Club. Why? We are an important boating education and safety organization in the central Ohio area. There is no other organization in central Ohio that offers the breadth and depth of boating training that we do. We all should be very proud of our efforts and volunteer hours we spend with the boating public.

We have been blessed for the past eight years with a very capable and inexhaustible Public Relations Officer, Tracy Garrett. However, as things and obligations change with time, so does our PR Department. Tracy will have 4 additional volunteers helping this year in the marketing and PR area. We are continuing our marketing efforts in the traditional areas, however we are expanding into the social media realm – Facebook, Twitter, etc.. Thank you Tracy for all you have done over these past many years! You are appreciated and loved!!

Our exposure in conducting Vessel Safety Checks is showing. We have people coming up to us at the boat shows saying they know us because we conducted a VSC examination for them. We hope to expand this activity this summer to more ramps and bodies of water to touch additional boaters. Our primary reason for doing VSC checks is for public safety, but it also gives us great exposure.

Speaking of Boat Shows, we would like to change this up with new ideas and attractions in our booth for 2016. Thank you P/C Bill Mohrman and crew for all your hard work these last 2 years. Please contact me with your ideas or if you would like to help in the new booth layout and design. We need to start now as the Boat Show is only 11 months away.

So, what marketing can you do for CSPS today? It is really simple. The next time someone asks you about CSPS, please take a minute and tell them the three things we do: Education, Civic Service and Fraternization. We are a remarkable organization and we serve the public in numerous ways.

As I sit here with 6 inches of snow on the ground dreaming about being on the water, I would like to share my thoughts on the Columbus Sail and Power Squadron. I have always loved the water, but I had limited boating experience and Terri had none. I had sailed some with friends from work about 20 years ago and used to rent pontoons at Alum Creak in my 20's. One of my friends got in to boating and got involved with CSPS. In talking with him, I thought it sounded fun, so Terri and I decided to take the America's Boating Course. We have learned a lot since joining the squadron and made some great friends.

Starting this year as Administrative Officer is an interesting challenge. I have a great assistant AO in John Daulton and I hope that we can plan some interesting events this year. We are going to try some new things, or new to us, but some may be old squadron ideas. We are both open to suggestions and feedback, so please let us know what you are thinking.

I hope you will all join us on March 14th at the 94th Aero Squadron for the Commanders Ball to celebrate the 75th Anniversary of our squadron. It should be a fun filled evening.

I'll close with a quote from English historian, who was writing about the Romans, but describes what I feel CSPS educates boaters to be: "The wind and the waves are always on the side of the ablest navigator." - Edward Gibbon 1737-1794

Help Wanted!

We are looking for volunteers!!

Boat Show Chairperson & Assistants

Hey membership we are need of your help for the 2016 Boat Show. Columbus Sail & Power Squadron is looking for new, fresh and innovative ideas for next year's Boat Show. We are need of a Boat Show Chairperson and several assistants that work on this project over the next 10 months. This would include organization, booth layout, design and activities for the public during the show to promote Columbus Sail and Power Squadron both as an organization and our public boating classes.

Public Relations Chairperson

Hey membership we are need of your help for the Public Relations Department. After eight years of Tracy Garrett's tireless work in the Columbus Sail & Power Squadron PR Department, she is asking for help. We are need of a person or persons to oversee and manage our PR department. Working with a number of assistants to promote Columbus Sail and Power Squadron. This would include promoting our classes, rendezvous, dinner meetings and other activities to both the squadron and the general public.

If you have interest in volunteering in either of these positions, please contact Lt/C Julie Mohrman at 614-581-4814 or jemohrman@mindspring.com.

ATTENTION ALL NEW COLUMBUS SAIL AND POWER SQUADRON MEMBERS

Please join us for an informal meeting at our squadron headquarters (8492 Cotter Street, Lewis Center, OH 43035) Thursday, March 12th at 6:30 PM. We will supply pizza, salad, dessert and drinks for all as we introduce you to some of our squadron members and show you around our headquarters. Bring your boating stories! Please RSVP by March 9th to sue\_goelz@yahoo.com or call 614-598-6709.

This is a very busy time of year for us in the education department. We have four classes going on right now - Weather, Marine Electrical Systems, America's Boating Course and Advanced Piloting. We also held an Instructor Recertification class on 2/19. Columbus has 15 instructors whose certifications are already expired or going to expire at the end of the year. It is important to keep our instructors current and active. If you would like to become an instructor or missed the recertification course, please contact me.

After a good sized class last year, I'm sorry to report that we will be cancelling our sailing course this spring as no students have registered. Larry Lowe does not believe this has happened in over 30 years. Cruise Planning, Navigation, Seamanship and Electron Navigation begins in March if you want to brush up on your skills.

The America's Boating Class is only as good as the students and we have a great class again this year. We have 28 students including a good number of families. The changes implemented this year were well received. We extended the hours each Saturday to allow for a less rushed teaching experience and also included lunch, which was masterfully orchestrated by XO, Julie Mohrman. The four hands-on "show don't tell" stations that the class rotated to during week one was a new approach to augment the lecture sections of the course. Overall feedback to our changes has been positive and eliminated the areas that past classes have had difficulties with. We very much look forward to welcoming these new members to the squadron. Many thank you are due to all the instructors and volunteers who made this ABC class a success. The Charting seminar is scheduled 2/24 at the Scioto Boat club, to wrap up this year's ABC Class.

While we had the anchors on loan from national for ABC, Larry Lowe also completed a hands-on Anchoring seminar at headquarters. Additional seminars coming this spring are listed in the box below.

Recent education news from National, District and the Ada Meetings:

- Exploring new methods to improve today's student experience:

- Publishing eBooks
- Blended learning -online and in-person classes
- Increase our "on the water" activities in conjunction with our courses

Please share your thoughts and ideas when a Member at Large calls you, or with me at an Executive Committee meeting and/or a dinner meeting on how we can improve our boating education programs.

The minutes of the December meeting were approved.

Commander Bill Mohrman, AP:

The Jan. 9-18th Ohio RV and Boat Show was a huge success. We saw record attendance for the week and for the show in total. Thank you to all who helped in planning, setting up, working the booth and tear down. The visitors didn't walk away from our booth without knowing what we are about. While the public exposure is hard to quantify, we really sharpened our focus and the message we presented to those that we serve. I hope to see this continue in the future.

This is my last report as Commander. It has been my pleasure to work with each and every one of you. As my term comes to a close, it is hard to put into words what all of your hard work and friendship means to me. We have met each of the challenges with perseverance and moved the squadron forward toward our goals of education, civic service and fraternization. I thank each and every one I have worked beside this year.

Squadron Education Officer P/D/LtC Larry Lowe, SN:

ABC3 class starts Saturday 1/31. About 25 are registered now. There is a problem with registration on the website that needs to be fixed immediately. Upcoming classes were discussed. Marine Electronics begins 3/25. Information regarding sponsorships by West Marine was passed out.

Treasurer Lt/C Edward Mack, AP:

Financial reports were distributed and reviewed. There was a motion by David Canale to authorize the treasurer, in accordance with the amount approved in the budget, to withdraw funds from investment earnings, as needed, to cover the projected budget deficit. 2nd by Ron Hupman; passed unanimously.

Executive Officer Lt/C John Seaver, JN:

Commander's Ball is March 14 at the 94th Aero Squadron.

Administrative Officer Lt. Julie Mohrman, AP:

Since this is my last report as AO, it will be rather short. January Dinner Meeting – CSPA had our Annual Elections on January 8, 2015 at the Hunan House. In addition to the Elections, we had a very interesting speaker, John Wargo from the US Corp of Army Engineers, to discuss Cold Water Boating Emergencies and his personal experiences. Thank you John. Also, we had a lot of positive comments on the Dinner that night.

Upcoming Change of Watch – Friday, February 6th at the Montgomery Inn in Dublin Ohio. We will have a limited menu that night to order from: Order of Ribs, ½ Chicken (all white), Ribs and Chicken Combo, Coho Salmon or Pork Chops. All dinners will include a salad and choice of a side dish with Cake for dessert. The cost is $34.00 per person with children ½ price. There will also be a cash bar. Dress that night is Uniform A with hand tie or business attire. I need RSVP's by Monday Feb 2nd.

Last of all I would like to thank everyone that helped me this year with the planning, decorating, suggestions and ideas for meetings, selling 50/50 tickets, and check-in table and most of all my husband. Even after doing the AO thing 3 times, there is still a lot of moral support needed to make it through. Thank you Bill!

Secretary Lt/C Ron Hupman, S:

All officers are asked to send reports to hupman1@att.net.

Immediate Past Commander, P/C David Canale, P:

Has been asked to organize a fund raiser for the spring Conference. A reverse raffle and other options are being considered. The amount of the new ODNR grant is lower than expected. We need to consider whether to convert this to a 1 yr. grant because more money will probably be available next year. This question was tabled until new business later in the meeting.

MEMBERS AT LARGE REPORTS:

Lt Tom Doyle, P – Regarding a calling committee of Members at Large: The squadron has 135 households which would be about 13 calls per Member at Large. We need an updated roster before implementing this. If the caller takes the reservation, let the member know that they will be charged if they don't show.

Lt Bob Goelz - Has paperwork to handle transfer of Marion members. New member dinner will be March 12 at HQ.

Lt. John McCarty, AP – Exploring new options for hosting our website. Possibly do it in conjunction with district.

After the break, the new bridge and members at large were seated.

Cdr. John Seaver, JN, Suggested goals for the year:

- Public relations and marketing is more than a 1 person job. Tracy has done great but needs help. Public Relations is key to the health of the squadron. I have lumped the following in the PR 'bucket':

- Increased resources to address this list - and I challenge the incoming Executive Bridge for ideas on how to address these needs. Please bring them to the next ECOM meeting.

- Michael shared that Tracy's investment is taking from their business, and we can't have that, however we need Tracy to identify what it takes and the time to find new owners.

- Redesign the Galley Gossip so we can publish our material publicly without creating hacking or personal exposure.

- Need to identify a team led by Tracy. Dick Sorensen has volunteered to participate.

- Identify and establish training alternatives and locations (ie: Cabelas), partnerships (Brunswick Dealer Advantage); Online – GoToTraining

- Redesign our Web Page so that it shares our goals, messages and class data more clearly as well as resolving class registration and payment issues. Alternative vendor?

- John McCarty volunteered to identify an email option.

- Tech Team (Mike Hudson, John McCarty & John Seaver) to evaluate and discuss alternatives and create a proposal for evaluation.

- Dinner meetings – redefine the goals and marketing to Membership and Partners (COSBC, ACSA, USCGAux):

- Enhance our partnerships – COSBC, ACSA, Rowing Clubs, other sailing clubs, Sea Scouts.

- Create and implement a document retention policy

- John Seaver will coordinate the meeting

- Offer a second ABC Course this year sponsored by the Judith Lowe Fund. This fund was established for this reason, allowing it to languish is falling short of the intention of this fund.

- SEO & ABC Chairperson to discuss after the completion of ABC Jan 2015

- Identify someone to take over ABC for 3 years

- SEO and ABC Chair to recruit

- HQ Storage concerns – via cabinets and/or Document Retention

- Create CSPS Operations manual including job descriptions. It was noted that there is one, but if it is not known about and easily accessible (ie: Member Section of the web page), it does not exist for the membership

Meatloaf, Mashed with a Side of Medicine

By Dick Sorensen, JN

Dinnertime has always been special and my most looked-forward-to meal of the day. Since our daughters have left Sharon and I have a quieter, more relaxed dinner time. It is a simpler menu with less drama-filled conversations seated before the television tuned to the evening news.

Watching the evening news always made me feel superior in a smug kind of way. I don't have any of those problems. I don't know of anyone involved in drug trafficking. I didn't have anyone on the Columbus City School Board. I wasn't getting thrown out of office for skullduggery. The war on terror is a million miles away. Listening to all those problems made me feel great when compared to mine.

That was until recently when I realized that with each bite of dinner I was being lectured about all of my current and potential physical ailments:

High blood pressure

Shingles

Allergies

Arthritis with severe joint pain and inflammation

Dry itchy skin

Memory loss

Low teardrop production leading to chronic dry eye

Sleepless nights caused by coughing/coughing caused by sleepless nights

ED, COPD

Too much earwax accumulation also known as Wax Pack (not really, I made this one up)

So along with the wonderful taste sensations of Sharon's meatloaf and mashed spuds, I get a serving of what's wrong with me. But, of course they offer me a cure. If only my doctor would write the right prescription! But wait; there are some potential side effects that they feel they must tell me about. If I take their drugs there is the possibility of:

Dropping over dead. That's Dead with a capital D!

falling down sickness

high or low blood pressure blurry vision, headache, rash, swelling, difficulty swallowing backache, liver problems, dehydration, dizziness, kidney challenges yeast infection, problems getting pregnant

shimmies' and shakes and a condition causing something to last 4 hours. Call your doctor!

And the actor pretending to be my doctor goes on and on with a list of side affects that is far longer than the disease the drugs are designed to cure. It is enough to make me put down my fork.

Now, I understand that the drug companies have the right to advertise but enough is enough. Can't I just enjoy my dinner while being informed of the latest things that are wrong in the world...shootings, drug busts, falling down houses, corrupt politicians or forgetful news reporters. Listening to those problems suffered by other people made me feel pretty good. I do not want to be told what is wrong with me! Shoot, I already know what is wrong with me. I do not need to be reminded of it with every bite!

Maybe there is a pill I could take to make these commercials go away?

Dick Sorensen, JN is absolutely stunned that he's been a member of USPS for 25 years. He can't believe he hasn't been thrown out by now.

Vessel Safety Examiners Wanted

Before the boats are back in the water, why not use this down time to become qualified as a Vessel Safety Examiner? This program will begin its 16th year in conjunction with ODNR Watercraft and the US Coast Guard Auxiliary. It is an enjoyable, worthwhile program, and who knows how many lives have been saved because of everyone's efforts nationwide.

This is an invitation to join us for the upcoming year and beyond. We currently have about 15 examiners, and have completed as many as 185 Vessel Safety Checks in a summer. I will be offering an Examiner class tentatively Sunday, 19 April from 1730-1930 at headquarters. However, you can be way ahead by reviewing the material online at the National Website www.usps.org.

Follow the drop-down menus: Locate Things, Site Navigation, Executive, Vessel Safety Check, and then on the left side margin you can download the VSC manual. After reviewing the manual, you can access online tests in this same area of the website (you can take practice tests, just don't submit them until you are confident of your knowledge). The tests are open-book.

We will have several scheduled events throughout the boating season, starting with the kick-off of National Safe Boating Week May 16th. These events take place at Alum Creek Lake, Buckeye Lake (actual dates to follow), various marinas on Lake Erie, and anywhere you choose to conduct Vessel Safety Checks. This is a great way to meet fellow boaters, inform them of what is necessary to be safety-compliant on the water, and promote our Squadron.

Please let Vessel Safety Check Chairman John Pruitt know if you are interested in attending. You can email him at [jmep Pruitt@prodigy.net](mailto:jmep Pruitt@prodigy.net) or by calling (614) 216-5203.

New Year, New Rules

BY CAPT. SANDY LINDSEY

Every year state legislators debate a wide variety of boating bills that can significantly impact our enjoyment of the water. Unfortunately, these topics don't make headlines like the Kardashians do, so we're here to check out some of the new and upcoming legislation that will affect boaters and fishermen in the HeartLand Boating coverage area. Happily, the news is better than we expected.

Boater Certification

For the past few years the question uppermost in most boater's minds was "will my state get mandatory boater education?" Unless you live in Arizona, Alaska, South Dakota or Wyoming, the answer is "yes," with Illinois boating laws getting stricter in 2016 with the requirement that all boaters operating a boat with a 10-horsepower engine or higher and born after January 1, 1998, have a boating safety certificate approved by the state Department of Natural Resources prior to getting behind the helm. While the law technically took effect on January 1, 2015, the actual curriculum will not be available until 2016. The law will allow for a boater-education exemption for those who rent a boat or who aren't in the state long.

Think this is the pretty much the end of the subject? Definitely not, as four Greenwich, Conn., lawmakers are making national news as they push for boating licensing requirements to be more in line with driving a motor vehicle, in what may lead to the next nationwide trend. Even if things don't go that far, the subject of boater education will continue to be a hot topic in many states, according to BoatUS, especially in those states with outdated laws and/or no boater safety certificate requirements.

PFD Requirement

To wear or not to wear? That's once again the question. Mandatory wearing of personal flotation devices (PFDs) is once under consideration. Florida has the matter on the 2015 session agenda. If passed, the bill would require PFD use on boats and personal watercraft, as well as while waterskiing, parasailing or similar activities.

Electric Shock Drowning

Something that may not be part of our daily consciousness, but is a critical matter on the legislative agenda of several states, is the prevention electric shock drowning (ESD) at marinas. Tennessee's solution, which recently passed, is to require marinas to have annual inspections to make sure they meet or exceed the newly established codes, with up to $50,000 for non-complying marinas.

Kentucky had an ESD bill as well prohibiting swimming within 50 yards of a boat dock or marina where boats receive shore power. It did not pass but is expected to be reintroduced.

Water Access & Fees

Those who look to limit our water access are lobbying strong, but after extensive research, we have found no notable bills currently on any local legislative floors proposing significant restrictions to boating or fishing in our area. The fees to fish on those waters is another matter entirely.

While many states are increasing fishing permit fees to generate additional revenue and occasionally as a "disincentive," Sen. Brian Munzlinger of Missouri has proposed a dramatic reduction Missouri Department of Conservation fees for fishing, hunting and other permits. The bill limits charges to service fees, customer convenience fees or replacement fees, each capped at $2 for Missouri residents. "We already pay a sales tax to conservation," Sen. Munzlinger said. "But when we want to partake in one of the outdoor sports, we have to pay again."

The Ohio Department of Veterans Services is also looking to reduce the cost of fishing with House Bill 47, which would give veterans free fishing and hunting licenses.

It's not all discounts in the fishing news, however. At the other end of the fee scale, the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency is proposing an average 22-percent increase in fishing, hunting and related licenses.

Uniform Boat Titling

BoatUS, which had a strong influence on the passing of mandatory boater education, is now focused on Uniform Boat Titling. So far they have been successful in helping get bills passed in Virginia in 2013 and Connecticut and Washington D.C. in 2014. The model law drafted by the Uniform Law Commission is under varying levels of consideration in all 50 states, with the idea that it will make selling boats, especially across state lines, a more straightforward process. Presently, some states have no certificate of title requirements for undocumented vessels, and for the states that do require a title, the laws governing it can vary wildly.

Interstate Boating Violator Compact

Governor Nathan Deal of Georgia is also thinking on a national scale. In a quest to make the waters across the country safer, he has formed the Interstate Boating Violator Compact. Based on the highly successful Wildlife Violator Compact currently in place in 42 states, the boating version would allow law enforcement to share interstate information that would allow Georgia (and other states as they join) to suspend the boating privileges, as applicable, of those who have violations elsewhere. The matter is currently under heated discussion in many states.

Towing, Drinking & Invasive Species

While the legislative horizon is busy, the past few years have been even more so, resulting in plenty of new laws going into effect this past January 1. You now have to use a minimum 12-inch bright orange flag when towing a person in Illinois. Also starting in 2015, the Illinois police can seize the vessel of an intoxicated boater under certain circumstance. More and more states are making it illegal to pick up invasive species in one body of water and transport the boat to another. The solution? A thorough boat cleaning.

These are just a few examples. Remember, ignorance of the law is no excuse. We strongly advise you to check out the websites of applicable law enforcement and department of natural resources divisions in your state to find out what's been put on the books while we were all off enjoying a day on the water.
